PUBLISHING AGREEMENT

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, represented by the Graduate School of Library and Information Science ("GSLIS"), along with the Johns Hopkins University, represented by the Johns Hopkins University Press ("the Press"), are pleased to undertake the publication of your contribution to its journal Library Trends (the "Journal"), entitled ____________ "Step Away From the Machine" — A look at our collective past (the "Article").

Whereas GSLIS and JHUP are undertaking to publish the Article in the Journal, and whereas you desire to have the Article so published, now therefore you as Author of the Article hereby grant and transfer exclusively to The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois all right, title, and interest in and to the Article, including but not limited to copyright, during the full term of copyright in the United States of America and elsewhere, including any extensions or renewals. The Press will register copyright to the Journal issue in which the Article appears in the name of the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois.

Rights of the Author: You have the following nonexclusive rights: (1) to use the Article in your own teaching activities; (2) to publish the Article, or permit its publication, as a part of any book you may write or edit; (3) to include the Article in your own personal or departmental institutional database or on-line site; (4) to include the Article in your institutional repository provided the repository is institution specific and not a discipline-based database that accepts contributions from outside the institution; (5) to include your Article, if required by law, in an open access archive such as PubMedCentral. For all rights granted in this paragraph you agree to credit the Press as publisher and the copyright holder as follows:

Copyright © <year> The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois. This article first appeared in TITLE, Volume <#>, Issue <#>, <Month>, <Year>, pages <#-#>.

Rights of GSLIS and the Press: GSLIS and the Press's rights include but are not limited to the following: (1) to publish the Article in any medium, whether paper or electronic, whether currently in use or hereafter devised; (2) to license abstracts, quotations, extracts, reprints, and/or translations of the work for publication; (3) to license reprints of the Article to third persons for educational photocopying; (4) to license others to create abstracts of the Article and to index the Article; (5) to license secondary publishers to reproduce the Article in print, microform, or any computer-readable form, including electronic on-line databases; and (6) to license the Article for document delivery.

Warranties: You represent and warrant to GSLIS and the Press that the Article is original, that you have full power to make this Agreement, that you are the sole author(s); that you have not previously published, or agreed to publish, the Article in whole or in part elsewhere, except as you have informed GSLIS and the Press in writing; that you have used all reasonable care to ensure that all facts and statements in the Article are true; and that the Article is not defamatory or in violation of any right of privacy, common law, statutory copyright, or other personal or property rights. Should the Article contain material that requires written permission for inclusion in the Article, such permission shall be obtained at your expense from the copyright proprietor and submitted for review to the editor of the Journal with the manuscript.

Fees for Subsidiary Rights: It is understood that you will receive no monetary compensation from GSLIS or the Press for the assignment of copyright and publication of the Article in the Journal. If any single fee of more than two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) is collected by the Press for the licensing of subsidiary rights to separate use of the Article, and if the Press has your current address, the Press will, within ninety (99) days of receipt, pay you forty percent (40%) of the fee collected, divided the remaining sixty percent (60%) between GSLIS and the Press. If any fee collected by the Press is less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00), no portion will be paid to you; instead the entire amount will be divided between GSLIS and the Press.

Please sign and date this agreement and return the original, to GSLIS at the address above. Please retain a copy for your own files. We are unable to publish your article without a signed copy of this agreement.
